

INTERIOR DESIGN[®]

AUGUST
2008

eye on art

nienkämper

After a hard day's work, slip into Granger. This lounge chair by David Granger of Bang Design is defined by a sculptural upholstered plywood shell resting on a stainless-steel frame. The chair is also offered without upholstery or arms. 800-668-9318; nienkamper.com. circle 493

figurae

Mix and match Puf modular soft seating to customize it for the office or the home. These comfy pieces are constructed of polystyrene and rubber, set on maple bases with plastic or aluminum feet. Select rectangles, squares, wedges, or circles and a myriad of fabric and color options. 39-0432-179-33-50; figurae.it. circle 494

allermuir

The Flight table seems poised for takeoff. A push-release mechanism sets up or collapses the superbly engineered flip top, which can be veneered in a variety of materials and specified with straight or curved ends. Pull up a 2007 chair, Aura, to complete the picture. 44-1254-682421; allermuir.com. circle 495

aramith

Anyone for a game of pool after dessert? The removable top of the Fusiontable helps it transform from dining to billiards. The table comes in MDF with a choice of wengé, walnut, light oak, gray oak, or cherry veneers or in a combination of veneer and steel. There's a patent pending on the concealed stretch pockets. 32-69-77-82-11; aramith.com. circle 496 ➤

